

Capital Attention Generally on Fate of Soldiers Abroad

Main Developments in Washington Today are Summarized

Washington, April 8.—(AP)—The Navy told today of the shattering of a Japanese air armada off Guadalcanal and Secretary of War Stimson called current operations in Tunisia a "signal success" while on the home front lawmakers worked with the problems of living costs and the black market in meat.

There were side issues, too, such as reports that the 3-B draft classification is to be eliminated and an appeal from House Minority Leader Martin for another attempt at pay-as-you-go taxation, but generally the Capital attention was on the fighting abroad.

Stimson told a press conference that progress so far in Tunisia "has been highly satisfactory."

Of 98 Japanese planes which struck at shipping yesterday near Guadalcanal island in the Solomons, the Navy said in its report 36 enemy craft were shot down by American fighters.

Home developments included: Asserting the enactment of the Face farm bill would "end the stabilization of prices—and of wages", Price Administrator Prentiss Brown asked the senate agriculture committee for its "sympathy and understanding" in his efforts to hold down living costs.

Brown said this bill, to include all farm labor costs in the parity formula, would have a "very far-reaching inflationary effect."

Draft Reclassification
Reclassification of draft registrants under a new national regulation, highlighted by elimination of the 3-B classification, was reported today to be scheduled to start Monday. Reports were that it would require reclassification to 1-A of all men outside of farming except those defined as fathers under selective service rules, those individually essential to essential activities, and those whose induction would mean extreme hardship to dependents.

Chairman Patman (D-Tex), opening an investigation by the house small business committee into black markets, said "mobsters who operated during prohibition" have muscled in on the illegal sale of meat.

Objecting to the proposed creation of a civilian supply director to determine amounts of labor and materials needed for the home front, War Manpower Chief Paul V. McNutt told the senate banking committee that it would give civilians "a blank check to draw upon the resources of the nation."

Price Bills Teeter
Two price bills teetered like chips on the farm bloc's shoulder—spotlighted there by manpower developments which had Washington wondering whether the administration would dare knock them off by not getting "as tough with labor as it was with agriculture."

That was the challenge flung down by farm bloc spokesmen as the Capital was otherwise concerned with a record Navy request for fighting funds, a senatorial squabble over who should visit the front lines and a move to temporarily extend the bituminous coal act.

Failing to override the president's veto of the Bankhead bill, the farm bloc managed to keep it alive and send it back to the senate agriculture committee to join the Pace bill. Both measures would hike farm prices and have been termed "inflationary" by the administration, but their advocates made it clear that they wanted the same attitude adopted in dealing with labor and other cost-of-living factors, or the bills would be brought up again.

To See What FDR Does
They wanted first to "see what the president does about John L. Lewis' demands" for a $2-a-day wage increase for his United Mine Workers.

But their attention—also turned to a War Production Board conference scheduled today with labor and industry in an effort to work out some sort of "incentive" pay plan for boosting munitions output.

Representatives of the CIO, the AFL, the United States Chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers went into a huddle with WPB's executive vice-chairman Charles E. Wilson and a subcommittee of the board's new management-labor council.

Another angle appeared in the house where new labor opposition to a revised version of the Hobbs anti-racketeering bill threatened to delay its consideration. Slated for a vote yesterday, it was sidetracked for two appropriations

"Incentive" Pay in War Industries Is Thought Coming

Washington, April 8.—(AP)—Amid strong indications that President Roosevelt has dropped his opposition to "incentive" pay, the War Production Board is scheduled to confer with labor and industry today in an effort to work some such scheme for boosting munitions output.

A subcommittee of WPB's new management-labor council arranged to meet with Charles E. Wilson, WPB executive vice chairman, to start work on details of an incentive plan for the aircraft industry.

Among the members of the subcommittee were Richard Frankenstein, aircraft director of the United Automobile Workers Union, representing the CIO, and Otto Seyferth, representing the United States Chamber of Commerce. Others include representatives of the AFL and the National Association of Manufacturers.

Even as they met, it became increasingly apparent that Roosevelt had withdrawn his objections to incentive or "bonus" payments to labor, which he voiced flatly one year ago.

In direct conflict with WPB Chairman Donald M. Nelson, Roosevelt said last April he was utterly opposed to such a plan because men in a time of national emergency should produce all they could. Nelson previously had endorsed the idea for certain war industries.

Wilson Sees FDR
Wilson, now the sparkplug behind WPB's incentive pay proposal, went to the White House recently. That he got at least a tentative go-ahead was indicated by the fact that he immediately thereafter set about getting clearance from the two agencies which might have opposed him on anti-inflationary grounds—the War Labor Board and the Office of Economic Stabilization.

WPB officials are confident the plan would step up production by at least 10 per cent, without a corresponding drain on manpower. Some feel the increase could be as much as 30 per cent.

Meanwhile a simple resolution extending the bituminous coal act for three or four months to prevent its lapse on April 26 through lack of time for action on pending extension bills has been decided on by house administration leaders.

Roosevelt is reported to have informed the leaders that some extension should be provided for the act, passed in 1937 to establish minimum prices for soft coal and discourage ruinous competition.

Dart Game
With U. S. Army East of El Guetar, Tunisia, April 6—(Delayed)—(AP)—German night-raiding bombers, seeking to break the morale of advancing American troops, have showered them with steel darts but the unimpressed doughboys are building roofs over their foxholes to protect them against the new "devil's needles."

"Since we brought up our big ack-ack guns and started throwing up heavy stuff at them, they practically have quit night bombing," said Corp. Edgar Silver, 24, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Their last stunt was to drop bunches of steel darts with tail fins, so that they drop point first. As soon as we found them we cut down trees and put thick branches over our foxholes.

"They didn't hurt anybody with them but we found one dart—with the point stuck through a two-inch tree limb. We started a dart game with those we found."

Everybody "Surprised" by DeGaulle
Postponing Visit to North Africa

London, April 8.—(AP)—Fighting French quarters apparently were puzzled today by dispatches from Algiers quoting Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as expressing "surprise" over a French national committee statement that he had asked Gen. Charles DeGaulle to postpone his visit to North Africa.

Declaring that he saw no occasion for General Eisenhower's surprise, a Fighting French spokesman said the National Committee merely had issued its statement in explanation of DeGaulle's failure to depart as expected for conferences with Gen. Henri Giraud on the unification of French forces fighting the axis.

"DeGaulle has been expecting to go since shortly after the first of the year," the spokesman said, "and the reason for the delay in opening negotiations with Giraud otherwise could not be understood."

Dispatches from Algiers said the comment issued from Eisenhower's headquarters did not flatly deny that the allied commander had asked DeGaulle not to make the trip, but declared cryptically that since the Fighting French statement was issued in London, Eisenhower "had no doubt that a full statement of the circumstances will be made there."

Fighting French sources, however, said the National Committee was planning no further statement at the moment.

One Fighting French official, referring to Eisenhower's expression at "surprise," said the committee was "just as surprised when it received General Eisenhower's note."

The Algiers dispatches quoting Eisenhower said his comment indicated the whole situation possibly was the result of a misunderstanding of some sort.

Officer Frank Tyne apprehended an unnaturalized Austrian, who was traveling by bus across the country, yesterday afternoon at the local bus terminal, after the foreigner had been reported to have taken several photographs of the I. N. U. Co. hydro plant, the power dam and the bridges. Afterward the foreigner was reported to have left Dixon under surveillance of a federal officer who seized his photographic equipment and baggage.

Eden Tells British Britain and United States See As One

Inform Commons He Has Invited Sec. Hull to Visit in London

London, April 8.—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, discussing his recent conferences in Washington before the House of Commons, disclosed today he had invited Secretary of State Cordell Hull to visit London and said he was satisfied there is "complete agreement" between Britain and the United States on the "future policy toward France."

He also reported that he and United States authorities "found a very close similarity of outlook" on postwar problems.

Eden said "there had been some misunderstanding in this country of the purpose the United States administration had in mind in maintaining relations with Vichy," but that these misunderstandings had been smoothed out.

"We naturally wanted to see all sections in France prepared to fight the common enemy united and together," he added.

He said an agreement on policy toward Spain, Portugal, Turkey and other European neutrals was reached and plans had been made for an improved exchange of information on enemy and enemy-occupied territories.

Eden did not state whether Hull had accepted his invitation.

Under Three Headings
He said his discussions in Washington fell mainly under three headings: first, "operational matters—immediate questions concerned with the conduct of the war"; second, "political cooperation between us in connection with actual military operations that have taken place or will take place"; and third, questions arising out of the war.

"I came back," Eden said, "greatly encouraged by the large measure of general agreement which we found and I am certain that will be of great value to us in future exchanges we shall have, both with the United States and other governments who are our allies."

This was the first reference he made which seemed to apply to Russia.

At the time of his Washington talks, it was assumed that one purpose of his visit was to bring about closer relationships between

Navy Requests 25
Billions for 1944

Washington, April 8.—(AP)—A Navy request for $24,551,070,000 in new funds for the 1944 fiscal year was laid before congress today with a grim reminder of the cost of repairing and replacing ships damaged in battle.

The estimated financial needs—largest amount ever sought for the sea-fighting forces—were sent to congress by President Roosevelt, and Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) announced an appropriations sub-committee would begin studying them Saturday.

From Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the house naval committee came the assertion that the unprecedented appropriations would go to add "greater and greater strength to the fleet and its air arm until we drive the enemy from the sea back to his shore as we press forward to victory."

The biggest allocations in the estimates include $9,024,000,000 for the increase, repair and replacement of naval vessels, $3,476,800,000 for the bureau of ordnance, $4,286,211,000 for the bureau of supplies and accounts, $1,887,000,000 for the bureau of ships, and $1,840,000,000 for the bureau of aeronautics.

for Passenger Cars To Be Available in 1943

Washington, April 8.—(AP)—Rubber Director William M. Jeffers said today 12,000,000 new passenger car tires will be available for distribution this year as compared with 3,474,000 in 1942.

He told a senate small business sub-committee that 7,000,000 new passenger tires already are on hand and that the other 5,000,000 will be manufactured from synthetic rubber "and otherwise."

In addition, Jeffers said, 6,300,000 new truck tires will be distributed this year as against 3,525,000 in 1942. There are 1,800,000 new truck tires on hand now, he added.

"The truck tire situation is going to be close," the rubber director testified, "because we haven't developed synthetic rubber to the extent that it is capable of heavy truck or bus duty. And we have to protect the dwindling supply of crude rubber."

Greetings

With U. S. Forces in Southern Tunisia, April 7—(Delayed)—(AP)—Hello, you limey!

That was the affectionate hail given by Sergt. Joseph A. Randall of State Center, Iowa, to Sergt. A. W. Acland of Maida Vale, London, as reconnaissance patrols of the British Eighth Army and armored forces of the Second U. S. Army Corps met in a historic juncture on the hard surfaced road amid desert wastes 32 miles from Gabes today.

"Very glad to see you," answered Acland, with typical British restraint.

These two enlisted men—the helmeted, grinning American and the freckled, red-haired Briton with blue beret, stepped forward and shook hands for the first formal contact uniting British forces which had pursued Field Marshal Erwin Rommel, 1,500 miles and the Americans who slapped the Germans back 140 miles from Kasserine Pass in six weeks.

Bolivia Joins in
on Wednesday

La Paz, Bolivia, April 8.—(AP)—Bolivia was summoned to war against the axis powers and their satellites by an executive decree today, and leaders of political blocs of the chamber of deputies arranged a meeting later in the day to consider the action of President Enrique Penaranda and his cabinet.

Observers here believed an immediate session of congress to vote a formal declaration of war would be demanded. Congress is the only body authorized constitutionally to adopt such a measure.

Foreign Minister Tomas Manuel Elio said the decree, placing Bolivia beside Brazil as the second country in South America to manifest martial opposition to Germany and Italy, also would apply to Japan and all nations associated with the three powers in the war. Brazil did not declare war against Japan. All countries in South America, however, have broken axis relations, except Argentina.

President to U. S.
President Panaranda will leave May 1 to confer with United States officials in Washington on Bolivia's part in the United Nations war program.

The executive action came as Vice President Henry A. Wallace of the United States, visiting Bolivia on his tour of South American nations, was made an honorary citizen of Cochabamba, center of the country's potato region.

Huge crowds greeted Wallace on his trip to Cochabamba, where he began a four-day tour of agricultural and mining regions.

Bolivia's active army has been limited to about 3,500 men, but with reserves it has a total fighting strength of about 12,000. Bolivia has no seaports and no navy.

Food Administration
Acts to Even Flow of Fresh Meat Supplies

Washington, April 8.—(AP)—In what officials said was a move to provide a more even flow of meats to civilians, the Food Administration has suspended an order requiring livestock slaughterers to set aside certain percentages of their production for military and lend-lease uses.

This action, however, will not provide any greater quantity of meat for civilians, than was contemplated when rationing was started, officials explained.

Slaughterers must continue to operate under a restriction order which sets up civilian quotas. Rationing is based on these quotas.

The suspension of the set-aside order means, explained the officials who asked not to be quoted by name, that slaughterers will be permitted for the time being to fill civilian quotas before the government takes supplies. But, they added, if sufficient meat is not obtained by the government for war uses, the order will be reinstated.

7 American, 37 Jap Aircraft Reported Lost Over Solomons

Great Air Battle Fought Wednesday; Japs Have Case 'Bomb Jitters'

(By The Associated Press)
American fighters were officially credited today with destroying 37 out of 98 Japanese planes in a battle over the southeast Solomons Wednesday when the enemy struck at U. S. Shipping off Guadalcanal island.

The Navy said seven American planes were lost and that one pilot was rescued.

The Japanese aerial armada included 50 bombers and 48 fighters. It was not disclosed whether they were successful in reaching the American ships.

A Navy communique said the battle climaxed a two-day offensive by American planes which made six forays against Japanese ships and bases throughout the Solomons.

Coincident with news of the American victory in the skies, Japan's Army press chief, Maj. Gen. Nakao Yahagi, voiced a threat of Japanese invasion of India.

Yahagi declared that "the enemy's ambition of recapturing Burma has at last been crushed" and that Japanese successes on the Burma front had "increased the confidence of our forces to advance into India."

Japs Get Bomb Jitters
Meanwhile, Japan had a fresh attack of "bomb jitters" today as the Tokyo radio for the second time in 24 hours warned the Japanese people that a new American bombing assault might come at any time "either from the China continent, the Aleutians or from aircraft carriers."

The U. S. Office of War Information said Tokyo broadcasts recalled that it was just short of a year ago that Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle's bombers made their first sweeping raid on Japanese mainland cities.

Elsewhere in the Far Pacific war theater, the British command announced that British artillery had smashed Japanese attempts to advance in the India region in Burma, with the enemy withdrawing after suffering heavy losses.

"No Change" in Burma
Along the Bay of Bengal coast, where Field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wavell's forces have withdrawn from the Mayu peninsula to await the monsoon rains, the British reported "no change" in the last 24 hours of fighting.

Imperial Tokyo headquarters asserted that Japanese troops had "destroyed" large British forces along the Mayu river and said operations were progressing for destruction of the rest. The British, however, declared the Japanese offensive was futile and that the enemy would be unable to hold newly-won positions during the monsoon floods.

The Tenth United States Air Force scored direct hits on the railroad yards at Rangoon and Twataung and strafed and bombed areas near Shingbiwayang where Japanese troops are concentrated, a communique said today.

From these operations on Tuesday and Wednesday all of the U. S.

Senate Groups in Squabble; Who'll Go to North Africa

By JACK BELL

Washington, April 8.—(AP)—Boys will be boys and the senate military and Truman war investigating committees produced some evidence today by way of proving it.

Each committee is semi-officially somewhat hurt and a little taken aback at the attitude adopted by the other on the burning question of which shall send a delegation to inspect the American fighting positions in North Africa.

Privately some of the boys are pretty mad about the whole thing, and cross words have been exchanged behind the swinging doors of the senate cloakrooms.

The Truman committee, it seems, got the jump on the junket in the form of a letter from President Roosevelt to congressional leaders approving a visit by four committee members to North Africa. The group, headed by Senator Truman (D-Mo), decided that Senators Mead (D-NY), Hatch (D-NM), Brewster (R-Maine) and Burton (R-Ohio) would make the journey.

Hardly had these four begun taking the innoculations prescribed for those who go overseas, when Senator Chandler (D-Ky) returned from an inspection trip to west coast military and other installations and demanded to know why the military committee wasn't represented on such a coveted assignment.

Chandler Much-Travelled
Chandler is chairman of a much-travelled military subcommittee which has been to Alaska, among other places. Chandler says this subcommittee has priorities on any trip outside the country because of a tacit understanding with the war department, made long ago, that when it was willing for any congressional group to visit Africa, Chandler's group would be tapped.

It looked for a while as if things might be worked out with a traditional compromise on a committee of five, combining members of both groups and including Senators Chandler, Hatch, Brewster, Wallgren (D-Wash) and Lodge (R-Mass).

But the Truman committee balked. And the military committee thereupon decided it, too, would be exclusive and name a subcommittee of five of its own members.

The opposing generals aired these views:
Chandler—"The military com-

McKibbin Resumes
State Post Monday

Chicago, April 8.—(AP)—George R. McKibbin, defeated Republican nominee in Chicago's mayoralty election Tuesday, today was re-appointed state finance director, Governor Dwight H. Green announced.

McKibbin, who resigned his post last Jan. 13 when he announced his candidacy for mayor, was defeated for the office by Mayor Edward J. Kelly, elected to his third four-year term.

Green said the reappointment will be sent to the state senate when it reconvenes next week. Samuel L. Workman, who was named acting director by Green after McKibbin's resignation, will resume his position as assistant director.

"The re-appointment speaks for itself," Green said. "The state is fortunate that George McKibbin will resume the splendid work he has done in the department of finance during the last two years."

McKibbin said he would be "happy to continue my association with Governor Green and to cooperate with him in the program of state reorganization which is underway." He will return to Springfield next week.

Allies Tighten Front Against Fleeing Nazis

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Should the winged fighting forces of the allies cease bombing industrial cities—like Cologne or the manufacturing suburbs of Paris, for example—because civilians are killed in the raids which are carrying us towards victory and the end of a bloody war?

A committee of Britons has petitioned the British government to "stop bombing civilians". The committee doesn't object to precision bombing of military and industrial targets, but is "horried" at such civilian casualties as were caused in Cologne.

Of course, deliberate bombing of civilians—with emphasis on the word "deliberate"—is contrary to international law and is a throwback to barbarism. But the committee has registered its protest at the wrong headquarters.

The Germans, Italians and Japanese have engaged in purposeful bombing of non-belligerents throughout the war, presumably in an effort to break civilian morale.

There has been no incident of this sort chargeable to the allies, however, so far as I know. The civilians who have been killed in Cologne and other places have died by chance and not by design.

Agreed that deliberate bombing of civilians is savagery—supposing they get caught at the target? Are bombs to be withheld because of that?

The factories of Cologne were turning out weapons of death to be used against the allies. Likely some were making bombs for British babies. Certainly the efforts of that great industrial center menaced the allied cause. They were protracting the war there by costing the lives of thousands of United Nations troops and causing untold suffering to civilians in allied countries.

Humanity doesn't ask us to make such a sacrifice in order to protect enemy peoples.

More Cuban Sugar To Be Imported in 1943

Washington, April 8.—(AP)—Arrangements have been made for bringing in an additional 220,000 tons of sugar from Cuba to ease some of the sugar rationing problems in the United States, it was learned today.

High officials who asked that their names not be used said however, that the arrangements do not necessarily mean any change in the general consumer rations of sugar.

Much of this sugar may be used, for instance, to make extra rations available to people wanting to do home canning, it was pointed out.

FDR Challenged to Get as Tough with Labor as He Is with Farmers

Washington, April 8.—(AP)—Congressional farm bloc spokesmen, abandoning their fight for immediate increases in agricultural price ceilings, today challenged the administration to "get as tough with labor as it was with agriculture."

The vetoed Bankhead bill to prohibit the deduction of government benefit payments before fixing maximum prices on farm commodities went back to the senate agriculture committee by a 62 to 23 vote, there to join the Pace bill which would include all farm costs in the farm parity formula.

Committeemen said neither measure would be pressed until, as Senator Bankhead (D-Ala) put

Washington
By Peter Edson
Telegraph Special Service

The idea of "incentive payments" for war industry workers is being toyed with in Washington's official planning circles as something that will put more money in the workers' pay envelopes, help combat the big bad cost of living, beat the Little Steel formula, increase war production and in general reduce the public woe in these tough times.

This isn't to be confused with the incentive payments for farmers, which the Department of Agriculture promoted a couple of months ago and congress kicked in the head. This new brand of incentive payment is to apply to industrial workers only. But the War Production Board is now re-shuffling its Management-Labor advisory setup, will probably do something about revitalizing its moribund Labor Production division, will create a new labor office under Robert K. Lamb, former chief counsel of the defunct Tolson House Committee investigating labor migration, to work with War Manpower Commission. Out of all this reorganizing is supposed to come action, one part of which is the idea of selling management and labor on further use of the incentive payment.

An incentive payment by any other name is not as fair. In harsh, pre-war Americanese, back in the days before a closed shop became known as "maintenance of membership," the theory of the incentive payment was known simply as "piecework." Catch on?

Piecework vs Speedup

Now piecework as such is one of the things that the labor statesmen have been trying to get away from for years. Piecework is associated with the speedup, the Bedeaux system, efficiency experts, stop-watches, rate cutting and all that stuff. Consequently, any effort to take workers off hourly or daily pay rate bases and put them all back on piecework is going to meet with opposition.

The trick, therefore, will be to get labor and management to agree that there's a war on and something should be done about it, so how about adopting incentive payments for the duration? This may be one of the first propositions put up to the newly constituted WPB Management-Labor Council, made up of the presidents of the C. I. O., A. F. of L., U. S. Chamber of Commerce and National Association of Manufacturers.

Reduce the case for incentive payments to a simple example, and you come up with something like this situation which actually developed last summer.

The wife of a leading, well-to-do citizen in an Ohio town got patriotic and went to work in the local canning factory at the height of the tomato harvest because the manager simply couldn't get enough help to handle his war crop. The good lady—call her Mrs. Tiara—was assigned to peeling tomatoes, and was she lousy. One bushel a day was about all she could do, though working right next to her was a nice fresh country girl—call her Miss Nimblefinger—who could peel four bushels of tomatoes a day and never cut a finger. But—

Under the Fair Labor Standards act, cannery workers must be paid by the hour, not by the bushel. So Mrs. Tiara gets the same wages by law for her one bushel that is paid to Miss Nimblefinger for her four, and is that fair?

The Soviet System

The same principle might apply to loading shells, making gas masks, laying bricks, riveting, sewing shirts. As the labor supply thins out, more and more unskilled labor will be used and it will be paid the same wages as the skilled. The advocates of the incentive payment plan say that there should be a minimum basic wage for a given unit of work. But if any given worker can turn out two units of work in a normal shift, that worker gets double pay.

This is not necessarily cruel capitalism, grinding workers to the bone. If you can stand a little dose of soviet propaganda—from each according to his ability, to each according to his labor—it might be recorded that the Russians have geared up their war production in just this way. There is a standard unit of daily production for every class of work—plowing ground, making bread, making bullets.

The workman who turns out a unit and a half a day gets pay and a half. The extra producers are the Stakhanovites, the heroes of the production line who get their medals just like soldiers, as well as extra pay. That's the way the Soviet gets production.

In the United States, the incentive payment is not unknown, and a number of war industries have bonus plans of one type or another. Most notorious are the records

ONCE FORBIDDEN SONG

France's national anthem, the "Marseillaise," was once a forbidden song in that country. It was sung so enthusiastically by French revolutionists and was employed as accompaniment to so many horrible deeds that it was considered dangerous and therefore forbidden.

Full-Time Catholic Chaplain at State Hospital Appointed

The Rev. Fr. J. T. Burke, Formerly of Dixon, Is Named to Post

Appointment of the first full-time chaplain for the Dixon state hospital, a position created recently by the state department of public welfare, was announced in Rockford late yesterday by the Most Rev. John J. Boylan, D. D., bishop of Rockford Catholic diocese.

Selection of the Rev. J. T. Burke, assistant pastor of St. Mary's church at DeKalb, as chaplain and director of Catholic activities at the hospital was one of 10 administrative changes and assignments announced by the new bishop, who was installed Feb. 24.

Father Burke, who will have full charge of Catholic activities at the Dixon institution, will reside at St. Patrick's rectory in Dixon until permanent quarters can be established at the hospital. Previously, an assistant from the parish was called to the hospital a number of times daily. The Rev. Joseph Aloysius Driscoll, pastor of St. Mary's mission church of Irish Grove, which celebrated its centennial in 1941, will succeed the late Rev. James T. Donahue, who served as pastor of St. Michael's church in Galena for 14 years. Father Donahue died suddenly March 29.

Father Driscoll's duties at Durand and Irish Grove will be taken over by the Rev. Joseph Healey, pastor of St. John's church at Hanover. Father Healey was ordained Oct. 25, 1931, in Rome, Italy.

Father Healey is a native of Cherry Valley, where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Healey, still reside.

The Rev. Myles J. Hoare, who has served at St. Vincent's orphanage and St. Joseph's Home for the Aged in Freeport, will assume the Hanover pastorate. He was ordained June 14, 1924, by the late Peter J. Muldoon, first bishop of Rockford diocese.

Father Hoare also will serve as temporary administrator of St. Michael's church in Galena until Father Driscoll assumes his new duties. The Galena parish, 111 years old, is the oldest in the diocese.

New Priests Assigned

Four priests ordained by Bishop Boylan March 27 were given their first assignments.

The Rev. John J. Kilduff of Chicago was named second assistant at St. Mary's, DeKalb, while the Rev. James O'Neill of East Dubuque will become an assistant pastor at St. James pro-cathedral in Rockford.

The Rev. Leo H. Ambre of Aurora was appointed assistant pastor at St. Mary's, Sterling, and the Rev. James F. McGuire of Menominee was named assistant at St. Patrick's parish, Amboy.

Other changes will send the Rev. Walter Dolan, second asstant at St. Mary's, DeKalb, to St. Mary's of Elgin as first assistant and the Rev. B. E. Beddoes, first assistant at St. Mary's of Elgin, to St. Mary's, DeKalb, as first assistant. Father Beddoes is a native of Freeport.

The assistant pastors will assume their new positions Saturday.

Rain Needed in Parts of Midwest Reports of Statisticians State

Chicago, April 8.—(AP)—Rain is needed in some areas, particularly in the southwest, where wheat last autumn is now beginning to grow, a series of state crop reports revealed today. In other regions progress was reported as poor as a result of damage suffered during the winter.

Acres sown to wheat last autumn totaled 37,482,000, compared with a ten year (1930-39) average of 48,039,000 acres. Abandonment will bring the acreage this year down to about 34,500,000, grain experts believe. Condition generally is placed lower than at this time last year. Reports from weather and agricultural agencies in important producing states today disclosed the following conditions:

Illinois—Progress of winter wheat is poor to good with considerable winter damage indicated in some localities.

Indiana—Condition of winter wheat is mostly fair to good.

Iowa—Rain is needed to stop erosion in winter wheat fields along the Missouri river.

About 12,000 Indians are serving with the U. S. armed forces.

Illinois' February Collection of Fats Totals 638,680 Lbs.

Chicago.—Illinois' collection of waste fats for war use was 638,680 pounds in February against 566,433 in January, Lt. Gov. Hugh W. Cross, chairman of the conservation committee, Illinois State Council of Defense, reported to Gov. Green today.

Paced by Illinois housewives, the region embraced by Illinois, Indiana, Iowa and Wisconsin led the nation in February with waste fats collections of 1,074,246 pounds, according to WPB statistics. The

New York-New Jersey region was second with 1,041,315 pounds. Although New York collected 734,751 pounds of waste fats in February, its percentage quota of 34.7 was below Illinois' 50.4. Lt. Gov. Cross commended Illinois women for their efforts and urged them to speed up fats salvage in an attempt to meet Illinois' monthly quota of 1,267,500 pounds set by WPB. He said 501 waste fats committees now are active.

A Thought for Today

To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven.—Ecclesiastes 3:1.

Thus times do shift; each thing his turn does hold:
New things succeed, as former things grow old.—Herrick.

More About Union Finances

The American Federation of Labor has eleven affiliates large enough to have cast at least 1,000 votes each in the last convention, held in Ottawa in October of 1942. In order of size these were the Teamsters, 5056 votes; the Carpenters, 3667; the Machinists, 3285; the Common Laborers, 2837; the Hotel Workers, 2420; the Garment Workers, 2250; the Electrical Workers, 2079; the Railway Clerks, 1558; the Planters, 1226; the Musicians and the Retail Clerks, 1000 each.

Of these the Teamsters, Carpenters, Common Laborers, Electrical Workers and Musicians have been subjected to much criticism, which is one reason why Congress is considering a bill to require that union finances be made a matter of public record, accessible to the lay membership and others.

So far as can be determined from the index at the New York Public Library there is no document there which might contain financial data from the electrical workers since 1925, from the carpenters since 1916, from the teamsters since 1925.

The card recording General Convention Reports of the Hod Carriers and Common Laborers bears a notation "Ceased Publication in 1911."

A monthly magazine of the Teamsters Union gives reports on annual conventions and gatherings of the General Executive Board through September of 1940, but there is no mention of finances.

Of these five organizations which have been under frequent attack, only James Caesar Petrillo's musicians publish an audited financial accounting which has reached the largest public library in the United States other than the Congressional Library.

This is given in considerable detail—almost in embarrassing details in some respects—though there are lump sum statements which a good investigator would want to have broken down before he formed any conclusions.

In Schedule A, General Fund Receipts and Disbursements, the salary and expenses of President Petrillo are given as $26,669.69; while in Schedule C, General Fund Income and Expenses, they show as $26,160.61. The discrepancy is small and probably unimportant. Yet it might puzzle a trumpet player or bass drummer who read that far.

In Schedule A the salary and expenses of Honorary President and General Adviser Joseph N.

Weber show as $20,901.11, but in Schedule C they appear as only $8,083.34.

In the A. F. of L. there are 6,194,382 dues paying members. We doubt that many of them will find an enlightening accounting of their union funds in any public library.

Union Finances

For some reason—possibly because congress is considering a bill which would make union finances a matter of public record—the American Federation of Labor recently published a full-page newspaper advertisement which announced:

"Audited membership and financial reports of the American Federation of Labor are a matter of public record and are available at most public libraries."

At the New York Public Library the Proceedings of the 62d Annual Convention, held last October, contain the report of Secretary-Treasurer George Meany for the year ended Ag. 31, 1942.

This is as broad a breakdown as could be expected in such form. If we were seeking to find skullduggery in A. F. of L. financing, however, it would be entirely inadequate. We should then have to go to Mr. Meany and ask his permission to examine the detailed records.

The published statement, for example, mentions expenditures of $728,805.75 for "organizing" and $541,453.16 for "organizers' salaries." There is a "miscellaneous general" item of $133,140.44.

If it were alleged that the American Federation of Labor as such was pulling fast ones on its membership—or no the public—no competent investigator would find such lump sum disbursements as these satisfactory. They mean exactly nothing.

But so far as we know there has been no general suspicion that the Federation itself was engaged in shenanigans which would be exposed by publicity.

The Federation is a front, a sort of impotent general management, for a large number of "affiliates" which, in everything that matters, are completely independent. This is not our interpretation; it is the concession and the alibi of President Green when he explains why the Federation does nothing about racketeers and criminals in its affiliated international.

The fact that the A. F. of L. publishes a summary statement of its own financial operations has no bearing whatever upon the question whether operating affiliations should be required to make public their own accounts.

Do they? If so, the files of the New York Public Library, the most complete anywhere in this country, unless perhaps the Library of Congress, do not help much.

Co-Operation

Two Orlando, Fla., taxicab companies dramatize the simplicity with which war savings can be made by those who are alert to national needs. In one week, by co-operation, they saved 15,000 miles of tire wear, 1250 gallons of gasoline and considerable money.

The method was so obvious nobody had adopted it. The companies merely arranged that whenever one receives a call, the dispatcher checks to see which has a cab nearest the vicinity of the pickup. That car is sent, instead of letting it roll back empty while another travels miles, empty, to answer the call.

Spring, or any other time, is fine for nipping blooming nuisances in the bud.

News Behind THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or part strictly prohibited.)

Washington—Petroleum Poobah Ickes is being pressed, not only by motorist representatives, but by other government departments, to liberalize the gas rationing program.

Even the Office of Price Administration has made some representations within the government suggesting greater allowances. Now an A-card driver can get only 90 miles a month at a maximum, or 45 to 50 miles if he has a heavy fuel consuming car. This is hardly enough to keep a machine in good condition.

The question of whether there is enough gasoline at hand along the eastern seaboard to warrant a greater value for the A-cards, or other relaxation of the restrictions, is not part of the current argument. The highest of authorities in OPA has taken the position that more gasoline should be furnished, indeed, should now be available.

The tank cars which were hauling fuel oil during the winter months should now be available for gasoline. Also, one of the new pipe lines from Texas to New Jersey is so near completion that the promise is made that it will be finished by July. Its capacity is 300,000 barrels a day.

A second pipe line through Seymour, Ind., to the eastern field is promised by next January to alleviate the fuel oil demand next winter by adding 235,000 more barrels a day. The position of the oil industry also seems to be undergoing a change trending more toward the OPA position than that of the petroleum administration.

Thus, Ickes is gradually being surrounded with opposition pressure. A show down is in prospect. Relaxation is at least possible for the first time.

This administration has always stoutly maintained—and with some display of righteous indignation—that the public works programs were non-political in character. . . . No one but a Republican would say otherwise. . . . And, furthermore, you people who did not believe it, have never been able to prove otherwise.

Well, a legal authority, prowling back into a specific case, came upon the following peculiar set of circumstances:

The Federal Works Administration issued orders, approved by the administration May 1, 1942, requiring that a specific paragraph be inserted in the general conditions governing costs-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. The paragraph read:

"(A) Preference in the employment of laborers and mechanics at the site shall be given to qualified local residents.

"(B) There shall be no discrimination by reason of race, creed, color, National Origin, or political affiliations in the employment of persons qualified by training and experience for work in the development of defense housing or defense public works at the site of the project."

This certainly established the political purity motif. Anyone had the right to work regardless of his voting peculiarities. Unfortunately, it did not last long.

Just about a month before the last election, certain revisions in the general conditions were issued (October 5, 1942). The revised order read:

"Delete paragraph 24 and substitute therefor the following: "The contractor shall not discriminate against any worker because of race, creed, color, or National Origin."

This change negatively re-established the only discrimination to be used on federal works projects. On its face, it seemed to say that relief is available for all—except Republicans.

There was an insurmountable defect in the way the promise of a commission for Mayor LaGuardia as a brigadier-general was presented to the public. No one, not even the mayor, made clear what particular kind of a job he was to do for which he was exceptionally suited. No convincing justification for the appointment was offered.

The War Department has a rule that no older men can be appointed to commissions unless they possess "extreme qualification" which enable them to do a specific needed task.

The promise of LaGuardia's appointment was accompanied only by a suggestion that he was to undertake certain unidentified administrative work in North Africa, and later to do some more unidentified administrative work in Italy when we conquer it.

Funerals

Suburban—

MRS. EMMA CANFIELD

Chana, April 8.—Funeral services will be held Friday for Mrs. Emma Julia Hull Canfield, 82, a lifelong resident of Pine Rock township and Chana, who died at 10 p. m. Tuesday at her home in Chana. She had been in failing health for some time.

Rites will be conducted at the Chana Methodist church by the Rev. F. W. Shrede, with burial in Chapel Hill cemetery, southwest of Chana.

Mrs. Canfield was born in Pine Rock township June 16, 1860, the daughter of Isaac N. and Julia Haynes Hull, pioneer settlers in the township.

On Jan. 8, 1882, she married George E. Canfield, and they engaged in farming southwest of Chana. Her husband preceded her in death in 1907 and in 1921 she left the farm to make her home in Chana.

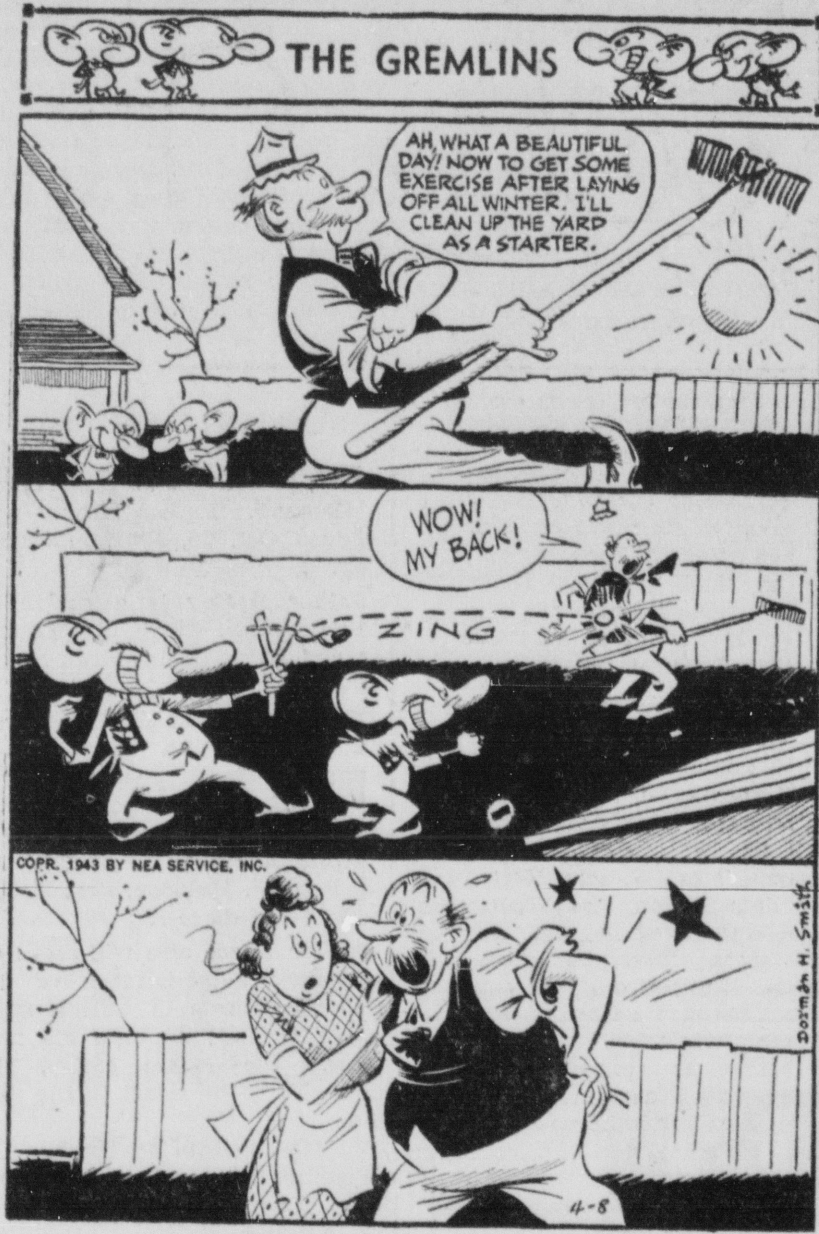

Mrs. Canfield had been a lifelong member of the Chana Methodist church and until six months ago had held a record of never having missed a day of Sunday school since she started when a child.

Surviving are three sons, Oliver and Earl, both of Chana, and George, of Oregon; two daughters, Mrs. Emma Butler and Mrs. Alice Gray, both of Chana; her twin brother, the Rev. Emory R. Hull, living in Iowa; 18 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren. Two sisters preceded her in death.

MRS. HANNAH ALLEN

Lamotte, April 8.—Funeral services for Mrs. Hannah Allen, 68, who drowned Monday morning when she fell into a cesspool at her farm home a half mile east of Ohio, were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence.

From the home the cortege moved to the Ohio Methodist church where the Rev. Tucker was in charge at 2:30 o'clock. Burial was made in the Ohio cemetery.

A verdict of accidental death was returned to a coroner's inquest held Tuesday to inquire into Mrs. Allen's death.

Testimony indicated that the accident victim's husband, Fred Allen, was making a delivery of cobs at the time of the mishap. Apparently Mrs. Allen was preparing to hang up clothes in the yard when she fell through the top of the cesspool about 10:30 o'clock Monday morning. Her body was discovered about noon Monday by Arthur Smith, of Lamotte, who came to the Allen farm to visit. When he arrived the washing machine was still running and a short time later he discovered the body in the cesspool.

The decedent, whose maiden name was Hannah Doty, was born at Ohio. She resided for some years in Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Surviving are her husband and five children who reside in Cedar Rapids.

After that Western thriller at the movies, Ben Ryder says: "You know, the West wasn't all like that. While the gun-play was going on—respectable folks were weeding out undesirable elements . . . red-eye saloons and gambling joints."

And Ben's right. There's a spirit in America that's always working for a better community. Take that "clean-up or close-up" program of the brewing industry, for instance. Its whole purpose is to see that beer is sold only in clean, respectable places.

Everybody benefits from co-operation like that—even folks who want Prohibition back. Because those beer folks are working for the same thing—a decent, law-abiding community.

From where I sit—the way isn't to pass more laws, but to enforce the ones we've got—and rely on America's spirit of tolerance and cooperation.

DARK JUNGLES

BY JOHN C. FLEMING & LOIS EBY

COPYRIGHT, 1943.
NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Allison Topping, society girl, is off to Guatemala, to run her father's chicla plantation. Barry Fielding, mining engineer on route to the same tropic land, tries to dissuade her, stressing the hardships she will face. Barry offers to tell Allison the nature of his secret mission if she will leave the ship and give up her plans. When she promises to consider his advice, he reveals that he seeks to obtain the location of a quicksilver mine owned by the Quiche Indian tribe. Barry turns away in disgust when Allison tells him she will not turn back. She follows him, just in time to see a native leap from a hiding place, a knife aglitter in his hand.

CHAPTER IV

AS Barry strode along the dark deck, his anger at Allison faded under a strange, rising apprehension. He was in a state of tingling alertness when her scream rang out. With the first sound he whirled, dodging.

The instinctive side movement saved him. As the dark form of the native catapulted against him, hurling him to the deck, the swiftly descending knife slid harmlessly through his coat sleeve, barely grazing his arm. For a hideous second while the breath was knocked out of him, he felt the knife being ripped loose for another plunge. But control returned and he grabbed the native's arm midway in its vicious downward jab. Instantly the dark giant reached his other hand for Barry's throat. Barry twisted free and they went into a grim, rolling fight.

Allison stood frozen, her screams strangled into breathless terror as the two lithe bodies writhed and strained across the shadowy deck before her. Then she caught the gleam of the knife still in the native's strong grip, waiting—waiting for that one fatal instant when Barry's desperate restraining hold relaxed. Fury flowed through her, bringing strength. She ran forward with a sobbing scream.

"Barry! Kill him, Barry!" Just below her now was the cruel black face of the native. With fastidious loathing she closed her eyes and began beating it with her fists.

She opened her eyes. The native had twisted over and she was beating Barry's head! She drew back, gasping. She saw that Barry's teeth were gritted with a hard last effort, his hand being forced slowly down the huge black arm that was relentlessly raising the knife over his back! She threw herself with a scream upon that murderous, hairy hand. Her teeth sank with frantic viciousness into the flesh of the huge black wrist! She heard Barry's yell and the dull clank of metal on wood at the same instant. She leaped up, grabbed the knife from the deck and ran to the rail to throw it overboard. Then she whirled back—but she could see nothing of the fighters—nothing but blackness. A deep surging void rose to engulf her.

SHE was in her cabin with the captain taking her pulse and the cabin boy bathing her head when she came in.

"Where's Barry?" she whispered.

The captain smiled at her with deep relief. "Feel all right?" he questioned.

She nodded impatiently. "I always faint at the most exciting moment," she said. Then she screamed at the captain's maddening smile. "Why don't you tell me where he is!"

The captain and the cabin boy both jumped.

"Mr. Fielding?" the captain said, alarmed. "Oh, he's in his cabin, I believe."

She began to laugh hysterically. "That's fine. Would you mind telling me—is he dead or alive?"

The captain looked more alarmed. "Oh," he said. "He's alive. But of course, he's alive."

"Thanks," said Allison. She went on laughing. "Sorry to be so inquisitive, but when I left him—"

At that moment, Barry's figure darkened her cabin door. His face was bruised and swollen, one eye was black, and his coat sleeve still hung in ribbons, but he looked all in one piece. And he could grin at her.

"Now what are you laughing about?" he accused.

"You," she said cryptically. "I couldn't call you handsome now."

The rubber men crowded in after Barry, and the elderly light-house keeper brought in his first-aid kit to see if Allison, too, needed treatment.

"She doesn't need any of that," Barry said. "All she needs is a good strong antiseptic mouth-wash."

He found the bottle Allison had in her bag and superintended a thorough disinfecting while he told her what she had missed of the fight. He gave her full credit for her part in the fray.

"I was just beginning to count the seconds I could hold on to that knife arm of his when you came to the rescue. Boy, you must pack a mean bite. He wilted like a daisy in a thunderstorm under it. And once he'd dropped his knife, he lost heart in the whole mess."

"What happened to him?" Allison murmured between giggles.

"I saw him," the captain broke in, "just as he got free of Mr. Fielding. He ran across the deck and dived overboard. He came up by a small boat, turned on his motor and raced in to the shore."

"He must have used oars coming out," Barry said. "We were around on the other side of the deck, but we could have heard a motor."

"He must have used oars coming out," Barry said. "We were around on the other side of the deck, but we could have heard a motor."

ALLISON said bitterly, to the captain. "You should have gone after him! He's a murderer! As long as he's loose somewhere, Barry's life isn't safe!"

Barry laughed. "That imagination of yours! He was just a poor pickpocket from Santiago who saw us tonight and thought we looked like easy pickings." He turned to appeal to the captain. "You see now why I think you should help me persuade this young woman to go back to her home?"

The captain nodded. "The life down where you are going is not the kind of civilization you know," he told Allison heavily. "It is filled with many such incidents as you saw tonight."

"And if you go fainting at every sight of roughness," Barry cut in dryly, "you can see for yourself you're not suited—"

"I didn't faint till the danger was past," Allison reminded him belligerently. "That's a fine way to pooh pooh me after I saved your life!"

"I'm going to thank you for that later," Barry said grimly. "Right now I don't want you to get a heroine complex and think one lucky incident fits you for jungle life."

Allison dropped back into her pillows with a grimace at Barry. She said to the captain, "Sometimes I think I could love that man. But sometimes he just bores me."

Barry was studying his wrist-watch in the flickering light of her candle. "You have just 15 minutes to pack before the boat sails," he said steadily.

"Do I?" She lay watching his determined face with languid humor, making no move. She saw the urgent command slowly fade out and stern resignation take its place. He turned and went to the door, to spin around for a last bitter word.

"All right. Go into the jungle! But I hope to God what you haven't got in that pretty, frivolous head of yours you've got in your hide," he shouted.

"You mean guts," she said cheerfully. "Well, who knows?"

The door slammed after Barry.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brader have received over a dozen letters from their son, Corpl. Glen C. Brader, a radio technician in the anti-aircraft division of the Coast Artillery, stationed in North Africa since Nov. 8. "V" mail has not yet been established there. A few excerpts from his most recent letters follow:

"Don't know if cooking utensils for the army include a doughnut cutter but they don't have one here, so they were cutting them out with a can and then cutting the middle out with something else smaller. I took a can and soldered a middle in it. The American Red Cross Service club is starting up in town and knew our cooks made darn good doughnuts, so came here to get the recipe. They saw the doughnut cutter we had so I had to make one for them, but I made a better one and even put a handle on it. So now everytime a soldier eats a doughnut at the service club it was cut out with that tin cutter I soldered together."

"I got a letter the other day from a fellow who works in the office where I used to work. He was kicking about the high cost of living and not getting enough money. He said he would join the Army if it wasn't for his two kids. I would be tickled to death to trade with him (not the kids) and still be willing to give half of my wages to the government. It would be worth it to me to be home with my friends and loved ones. It is not so bad where we are, but some people don't know how lucky they are to be at home. We have fared very well and I have no kick about our living conditions, they are very good, but about all the fellows talk about is the time when they will get home again. That is the chief topic of conversation and I guess it should be if a person is human at all."

"Remember that folding cot we used to use on our vacation trips and how I used to hate it. But the one I now have feels good after sleeping on boards or on the ground."

Soldier's Widow Wins Suit for Insurance

Peoria, Ill., April 8.—(AP)—The Sun Life Assurance Co. of Montreal must pay Mrs. Ruth P. Bull of Peoria the full value of the $10,000 policy it carried on the life of her husband, Lt. Richard Bull, who was killed aboard a bombing plane last Feb. 5 in the South Pacific.

A judgment for $10,259.59, including interest on the claim, was awarded to Mrs. Bull in federal court yesterday.

The company had refused to pay the claim, contending the officer had signed a waiver clause to be invoked in the case of death in an airplane accident. Testimony was to the effect Lt. Bull was shot at close range by Jap fliers after he had ordered other officers aboard to remove wounded crew members from the ship, remaining behind himself to destroy the bombsight.

Reclassification of Registrants Is Said to Be Agreed on Washington, April 8.—(AP)—Reclassification of draft registrants under a new national regulation, highlighted by elimination of the 3-B classification, was reported today to be scheduled to start Monday.

National selective service headquarters continued the silence it has maintained despite circulation of unofficial reports for more than a week. But an official statement is expected Monday.

The 3-B classification, which includes all men having dependents and working in essential activities, regardless of what job they hold was established last July 15.

Besides eliminating it, unofficial reports said, the new regulations will:

Require reclassification to 1-A of all men outside of farming except those defined as fathers under selective service rules, those individually essential to essential activities, and those whose induction would mean extreme hardship to dependents.

Reserve the 3-A classification exclusively for fathers—those living in a bona fide family relationship with children conceived before induction of the fathers appeared imminent, and in no case born later than Sept. 14, 1942.

Create a new classification, 3-D, for deferment of single or childless married men whose induction would cause extreme hardship to dependents.

The potter's wheel was invented independently by many different races.

Red Wings May Win Stanley Cup Tonight

Boston, April 8—(AP)—The high-flying Detroit Red Wings today appeared almost assured of winning up the Stanley Cup finals against the Boston Bruins in four straight games, which happens to be the most direct course to that trophy, the ice sport's most cherished diadem.

With two games up, both on their home ice, the sturdy Red Wings engaged the Bruins on the latter's home surface last night and, without extending themselves overmuch, wrapped up a 4-1 triumph in speedy fashion.

The Bruins, who seldom have been shut out in such one-sided play-off competition, really dug their own graves by over-extending themselves when, with their cause hopelessly lost, they started overpressing in the second and third periods.

That marked their sad mistake. It was then that the triumphant Red Wings, charting their course exactly, rested on their oars and most efficiently overcame the Bruins' most desperate efforts. They will play again tonight.

GOBS SCHEDULE GAMES

Great Lakes, Ill., April 8—(AP)—The Great Lakes naval training station's baseball team, piloted by Lt. Gordon S. Mickey Cochrane, former Detroit Tigers manager, will play at least 11 games with major league clubs this season. Lt. Comm. J. Russell Cook, athletic officer, said today.

Sports Roundup

BY SAHRI FULLERTON JR.

New York, April 8—(AP)—

Perhaps it's too early in the season to be bringing up the subject, but there may be enough college sports activity, especially baseball, next summer to make up for the shortened spring schedules. . . . Asa Bushnell, who keeps his fingers in a whole wagonload of college pies, points out that a lot more eastern schools will be having summer sessions this year and he figures that most of them will try to organize teams with the same sort of pickup schedules that some operated successfully last summer. . . . The result, naturally, will be intercollegiate games within whatever limits transportation and the different starting dates of the summer sessions make necessary.

ENOUGH IS ENOUGH

When some 3,000 Lakewood, N. J., school kids were given time off the other day to watch the Giants practice, they also were given a lecture on good behavior. . . . For about a half hour they acted like perfect ladies and gentlemen then the strain was too much for them. . . . A voice in the deep silence suddenly rang out: "Hey, Horseface, back to the underbrush for you!" . . . And from there on the kids behaved themselves.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

The Jamaica Racing Association has set a row of hitching posts behind the grandstand to accommodate spectators who know that horses are more than just numbers at the mutual windows. . . . Bill Frink, 16-year-old Elkhardt, Ind., sportscaster, aired play-by-play reports on 50 school basketball games during the past season. . . . He's one kid who never should be at a loss for words. . . . Yale, which could schedule only two games with major league ball teams in ten years before Red Rolfe became coach, has two in three days this spring—Brooklyn yesterday and the Braves tomorrow. . . . Rose Cohen, who handles press tickets for Mike Jacobs and has dealt out about 40,000 in the past year, forgot to reserve one for herself last Friday and had to crash the gate for the Armstrong-Beau Jack scrap.

SERVICE DEPT.

The Manhattan Beach Coast Guard station, which has cleaned up most of the sports titles in local naval circles, may drop its entire varsity program. . . . Lieut. Jim Burchard, former New York World-Telegram sports scribe, now a correspondent for "Stars and Stripes" and a member of the Algerian boxing commission, has been wounded but reports it isn't serious. . . . Camp Croft, S. C., plans to operate two baseball leagues and one softball circuit this summer. . . . Torchy Peden, the old six-day bike racer, has been made a sergeant in the Canadian Air Force after taking a ten weeks course in physical training instruction. . . . Reading that a Fort Worth, Tex., girl had been given the title of "The Perfect WAAC", Fort Sheridan, Ill., soldiers decided that Corp. Eileen Kolden should put in a claim for the title. Besides filling the specifications—five feet seven and 143 pounds—Corp Kolden captains the WAAC bowling team and is interested in swimming, judo, skiing and ice skating.

GOLF BALLS FOR TROOPS

Chicago, April 8—(AP)—They were boxing something new in the way of supplies for the front in Chicago today—123 dozen golf balls. Described as "good as new", the balls are those accumulated in the official testing agency of the U. S. Golf Association at the Armour Research Foundation, Illinois Institute of Technology. They were submitted by manufacturers for checking over a period of several years. They were turned over to the Red Cross for forwarding overseas.

TOBACCO SHOWS ROAD

Each tobacco warehouse in Bedford, Virginia, has established a "Tobacco War Bond Row," in which planters place crops for which they accept War Bonds in payment instead of currency.

Camp Briefs

By The Associated Press

Lakehurst, N. J.—The New York Giants seem to have cleared up two problems that troubled them during the early part of the training season—Whether Carl Hubbell's left arm would be in good shape for the season and the team's failure to hit in intracamp games. Hubbell, making his seasonal debut against the Ellis Island Coast Guard team yesterday, gave only one hit in three innings and fanned five men in a row. In three exhibitions so far the Giants have paled out 43 hits for 51 runs.

Brooklyn—The Dodgers turned to Kirby Higbe's pitching for consolation for their narrow escape from defeat in yesterday's exhibition against Yale at New Haven. Higbe allowed only two hits and fanned nine during a four-inning stint.

Cape Girardeau, Mo.—Already beset by a number of troubles, Manager Luke Sewell of the St. Louis Browns had another on his hands today on the eve of a seven-game series with the Cardinals. Shortstop Vernon Stephens, who has an eye infection, returned to St. Louis ahead of the rest of the squad for treatment.

Muncie, Ind.—Jimmy Wasdell, Pittsburgh Pirates outfielder, has received a notice from his draft board to be ready for his first physical examination within a few days. Rip Collins, manager-of the Bucs' Albany, N. Y., farm, left camp yesterday and outfielder Ernie Sites, pitched Leonard Gilmore and catcher Paul Whittingham, who have been working with the Pirates, will join the Albany squad over the week-end.

French Lick, Ind.—After dropping the rubber game of the "strictly informal" series to the White Sox, the Chicago Cubs indicated they were taking the games seriously when Manager Jimmy Wilson kept them after school for a stiff post-game workout.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Hank Edwards revived hope for a touch of power in the Cleveland Indians' lineup by his hitting in yesterday's exhibition with the Pirates. Edwards slammed a homer far over the right field wall to give the Tribe a 4-3 victory.

French Lick, Ind.—Those knee operations didn't seem to bother Orval Grove a bit when he took on his first pitching assignment since last summer for the Chicago White Sox and held the Cubs to one hit in three innings.

Bloomington, Ind.—Steve Mesner, whom the Cincinnati Reds tried to give to Brooklyn without a look, is demonstrating that maybe Commissioner K. M. Landis knew best when he cancelled the deal. Steve is playing anywhere in the infield except first base in good style and made two hits against Indianapolis yesterday.

Hershey, Pa.—There seems to be no end of bad news for the undermanned Phillies. The latest is that Garton Del Sario, the shortstop obtained from Cincinnati for the waiver price of $7,500, has been ordered to report to his draft board for a blood test.

Decatur Follows in Footsteps of Dixon

Decatur, Ill., April 8—(AP)—

White collar workers of Decatur who know their way around a farm will help Macon county farmers after office hours and on days off under a plan providing for pay at the rate of 40 cents per hour and designed to combat a farm labor shortage.

Work would include tractor operation, milking, haying, team work, and combining, explained Paul Ellis of the Junior Association of Commerce, sponsor of the plan. He added that the city men must have enough farm background so they won't be a liability instead of a benefit.

Southworth Looks to Speed to Win for His Cardinals

Cairo, Ill., April 8—(AP)—

The world champion St. Louis Cardinals wound up their spring training today with indications the club has seriously missed the long string of 25 or 30 exhibition games played down south in previous years.

April 27 is the night of the high school play at Compton.

Come to the high school at 8 p. m. and see Bruce Daw as "Old Crusty" in "Old Crusty Takes the Air." You'll laugh at the way his daughter fools him, all because of a young airplane pilot. Betty Arjes is this clever daughter and James Taylor is the pilot. Of course you won't want to miss hearing James Corwin and his English accent. Be sure to read next week's paper to see the names of the rest of the cast. An added attraction is the performance by the high school orchestra and several solos.

Final Lesson in Tractor Operation Tomorrow Evening

A chance for actual tractor driving will be given to the Victory Volunteers this afternoon.

Ralph Coffey is conducting the class from 5 o'clock until dark in the west half of the Dixon One-Stop parking lot on Highland avenue. Following that Coffey will give instructions and comments on safety at the International Harvester Company.

Last evening Neil Howell conducted a safety discussion at the Dixon One-Stop. He stressed the danger of doing some of the simple things incorrectly. For example, everyone feels he knows how to crank a tractor yet many an arm has been broken just because the operator took hold of the crank wrong. A tractor left in gear is another danger. Not only do many simple precautions eliminate the risk of accident but also save the machinery.

All Victory Volunteers who did not attend the instruction and safety course last evening are urged to be at Coffey's discussion this evening. A few minutes of instruction may save many a lost hour caused by accident this summer.

Tomorrow evening from 6 to 8 o'clock Howell will finish the series of classes with tractor driving instruction in his parking lot.

Hot Milk Sponge Cake
One cup sifted cake flour, 1 teaspoon combination baking powder, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 3 eggs, 1 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 6 tablespoons hot milk.
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Beat eggs until very thick and light and nearly white (5 to 7 minutes). Add sugar gradually, beating constantly. Add lemon juice. Fold in flour, a small amount at a time. Add milk, mixing quickly and thoroughly until batter is blended. Turn at once into ungreased tube pan and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 35 minutes, or until done. Remove from oven and invert pan 1 hour, or until cold.
This cake may be baked in pans which have been greased very lightly on bottoms only, as follows: Bake in two 8x8x2-inch pans in moderate oven (350° F.) 25 minutes, or in two 9-inch layer pans in moderate oven (350° F.) 20 to 25 minutes; or in two 9x8-inch layer pans in moderate oven (350° F.) 20 minutes.

(Makes 2 1/2 cups topping)
One egg white, unbeaten, 1/2 cup sugar, dash of salt, 3/4 cup sliced strawberries.
Combine egg white, sugar, salt, and 1/4 cup strawberries in top of double boiler and beat with rotary egg beater until thoroughly mixed. Place over rapidly boiling water, beat constantly with rotary egg beater, and cook 3 minutes, or until mixture will stand in soft peaks. Remove from boiling water and fold in remaining strawberries. Pile on top of cake.

Soybean Casserole
(Serves 4-6)
Two cups cooked soybeans, chopped; 1/4 cup diced salt pork, 2 cups chopped celery, 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper, 2 tablespoons chopped onion, 6 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 cup buttered bread crumbs.
Brown the salt pork in a frying pan. Add the celery, onion, and green pepper and saute for about 5 minutes. Add thickening made from the flour, milk, salt, and stir until it reaches the boiling point. Stir in the cooked beans and pour the mixture into a greased baking dish. Cover with the buttered bread crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes, or until crumbs are brown.

tables (celery, green pepper, carrot and onion make a good combination). French dressing.
Marinate vegetables in highly seasoned French dressing. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored. Add seasonings, then boiling water, a tablespoon at a time, beating after each addition. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Put butter or fat in skillet and when very hot, pour in egg mixture. Turn flame very low and cook 5 to 8 minutes, or until omelet has risen and cooked through. Drain excess dressing from vegetables. Sprinkle vegetables on half the omelet and fold over on to hot platter.
Eggs Espagnole
Six eggs, 2 strips bacon, 1 small onion, chopped; 1 tablespoon flour, 2 cups cooked or canned tomatoes, 1 green pepper, chopped; 1 cup chopped celery, chopped parsley, salt and pepper.
Cook eggs until hard, remove shells and cut in half. Fry bacon until crisp, and break it into small pieces. Cook onion in the bacon fat for a few minutes, blend in flour, add tomatoes, green pepper, and celery. Simmer over low heat for about 20 minutes. Add bacon, parsley, and season with salt and pepper to taste. Pour sauce over eggs.
Ukrainian Borsch
(Serves 4 to 6)
Eight cups stock, 8 large beets, 8 boiled potatoes, 1 lb. frankfurters, chopped dill or parsley, salt, pepper, 1 cup sour cream.
Make strong stock, using beef bones, vegetables, etc.; strain and reheat. Boil beets until just tender; do not overcook. Skin and slice into strips. Strain water in which beets were cooked through cheesecloth, and add to stock. Add sliced beets and uniform potatoes. Cut frankfurters into one-half-inch discs, brown quickly in fat and add to soup. Simmer gently until frankfurters are done. Serve with beets, frankfurters and potatoes in each plate. Sprinkle with chopped parsley or dill. Serve sour cream in separate dish.

Filled Spinach Ring

Crispy Baked Eggs
(Serves 6)
One tablespoon melted butter, 2 cups corn flakes, 6 eggs, 1/2 teaspoon salt, dash of pepper.
Pour butter over corn flakes and toss lightly to distribute butter evenly. Arrange corn flakes to form a nest in each section of the greased muffin pan. Break eggs carefully, slipping one into each nest. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Bake in slow oven (325° F.) 20 minutes, or until eggs are firm. To serve, loosen with knife and lift out gently onto plate. This may also be baked in greased shallow baking dish. Place corn flakes in bottom of pan; make six depressions and break an egg into each. Serve with bacon or ham.

Crispy Baked Eggs With Cheese

Style and Dash Depend on One's Pattern Choice

Urbana, Ill.—Every used garment is an individual problem when being remodeled. For this reason it is a challenge to the imagination and much more interesting than making a dress from several yards of new material.

"When you are ready to select your pattern, give it the thought it deserves," advises Miss Edna R. Gray, assistant professor of clothing extension, University of Illinois College of Agriculture. "In achieving style in dress, fitting is as important as design, and fitting begins in the pattern. Notice the shape of the pieces with which you will have to work. Jot down some of the measurements, if necessary. Allow plenty of time at the pattern counter. Read the information on the envelopes of the patterns in which you are interested. Examine the small cutting diagrams for each pattern to be found in the counter pattern books. Such study will usually tell you whether or not you can manage to cut that particular pattern from the material with which you are to work.

If you think you may have to piece, look for a pattern which has small pieces and many seams. If you cannot find all the items you want in one pattern, look for two. For example, perhaps a coat of one and a skirt of another will suit your needs. Before buying two patterns, however, consider whether or not you might be able to alter the design of one pattern to make it like the other one. It is usually very easy to alter skirt designs. Do not expect to be able to follow any pattern in every detail. The principal structural lines, of course should be followed or, at most, changed only slightly.

"If you doubt your skill—or even your imagination—the leaflet, 'Make-Overs from Men's Suits,' may be of considerable help to you. It contains a number of new garments made from old suits, separate coats and trousers. These garments were made for real people working under the direction of specialists in the bureau of home economics, of the United States Department of Agriculture. Included with each photograph is a cutting chart showing exactly how each garment was cut and a description of the problems met in planning and cutting. A copy of the leaflet, No. 230, U. S. D. A., 'Make-Overs from Men's Suits,' may be obtained by writing the University of Illinois college of agriculture."

Hollywood News

There's always some kind of an argument about Hollywood and this week it's about redheads—the Chicago Chapter of the National Redheads Association vs. the International Beauty Show of New York City. It all started when the New York organization—and its 23,000 beauty shop owners, voted Rita Hayworth the nation's No. 1 redhead. The Chicago chapter of the National Redheads saw red—and voted Maureen O'Hara, the title. Said President Thomas R. Roberts of the Chicago group: "We have submitted samples of Miss O'Hara's hair to chemical analysis and they stood all tests. Miss Hayworth is a synthetic redhead." That's one argument we're going to stay out of.

The prudish garments of 1840 were supposed to be the last word in modesty, but they're much too daring for modern motion picture censors. The Hays office cracked down yesterday on two dresses Joan Fontaine was supposed to wear as a governess in the film version of "Jane Eyre." To the censors, tight bodices and sweaters mean just about the same thing. Joan's 1840 garments were toned down to conform with the liberal outlook of the world a century later. . . . Sonja Henie will take her first screen spill on ice for "Wintertime." But it's only in the script and she approves. Sonja takes the tumble to break up a romance between Carol Landis and Cornel Wilde.

Nothing is Impossible
On the door of the Republic studio serial department where six writers are working on the script of "Secret Service in Darkest Africa," there's a sign reading: "The difficult we do immediately. The impossible takes a little longer." . . . Paul Regan, master night club mimic, is a dark horse in the search to find a man to play Will Rogers' biography. . . . Randolph Scott will appear in motion pictures only six months of the year for the duration. Rest of the year will be spent working his 1000-acre ranch near San Diego, Calif. He just completed work in RKO's "Bombardier." . . . For the first time since Tom Mix was the screen's No. 1 cowboy, a western idol and his horse will receive equal billing on the screen, Roy Rogers and his nag, Trigger, will share theater marquee. . . . Alan Curtis, recently separated from Ilona Massey, will be starred at Universal in "Two Tickets to London." Miss Massey will soon star in "One Ticket to Reno."

Autobiography
Glamor girl Gene Tierney and father-in-law, Count Alex Cassini, have turned writers and collaborated on a film plot on which 20th Century-Fox has taken an option for Betty Grable. It's practically Gene's own life story. . . . Fifi D'Orsay is taking Spanish lessons to accept Mexican film contract. . . . George Jessel, who hasn't seen his baby daughter since his divorce from Lois Andrews, has commissioned a friend to photograph the child and send him the pictures. It's one way of watching your child grow up.

Nick Castle, Hollywood dance director, sticks out his chin by naming his idea of the 10 best feminine dancers of the past 20 years. The list: Adele Astaire, sister of Fred; Eleanor Powell, Harriet Hootor, Vera Lorenz, Jessie Matthews, Katherine Dunham, Carmen Amaya, Marie Bryant and Ann Miller. Miss Miller, he says, is the best all-around feminine dancer of the day. . . . Good old California takes it on the chin again in "Air Force." Discussing the relative merits of various parts of the United States, George Tobias describes California as a place where "it's always hot, nothing ever happens and before you know it, you're 65."

When it comes to motion picture censorship, public reaction is a hundredfold more potent than Will Hays himself. As originally written, the script of Charlotte Bronte's classic, "Jane Eyre," called for Orson Welles to throw a huge bone liberally covered with meat to his pet Great Dane dog. But since meat ratiating—and the reaction of audiences to such waste, the script has been re-written. Instead of a bone, the Great Dane receives a pat on the head. . . . Judy Garland will don a mustache for a scene in her new film, "Girl Crazy." No, it's not because of the male shortage in movietown. She'll impersonate a certain state governor for one sequence in the picture.

Belated but ironic note to the Mickey Rooney murder threat is that Mick and his pal, Sidney Miller, were working on a new song called "You're Just the Kid I'd Like to Kidnap" when they were told of the mysterious calls. . . . A former director of the Moscow Art Theater, Benno Schneider, is now working as technical adviser on Samuel Goldwyn's "The North Star," seeing to it that everything is authentic. First day on the picture's village set, Goldwyn took great pride in saying, "Well, I'll bet you can't find anything wrong with this set?" Schneider looked it over and then said, sourly: "There's only one thing wrong. This is a collective village. You're a capitalist. And you own it!"

Change of Character
For the first time in many moons, Ida Lupino will portray a girl you can't find reason to hate in "In Our Times." It will be Ida's first escape from neurotic roles in several years. . . . Vernon Dent, one-time Keystone Cop and screen partner of Harry Langdon, is seriously ill at a Los Angeles hospital. . . . There's a very good reason why actors adopt screen names. Legal name of Rita Corday, Swiss actress making her screen debut in "The Falcon Strikes Back," is Jeanne Paule Teipo-Ite-Marma Croset. . . . Jean Arthur may have been chosen "the least co-operative actress of the year" by the Hollywood Women's Press Club, but she can now replace that award with an Oscar she just received from a group of fans in Winston-Salem, N. C. They voted her their "favorite comedienne of the year." The star just completed another comedy, "A Lady Takes a Chance," at RKO. . . . Beauty specialist Gloria Bristol has Martha Raye on a special diet to regain the 20 pounds she lost on

Although screen actress Margo was born in Mexico City, she was raised and educated in Southern California. But throughout her screen career in Hollywood, she's always been cast in Latin roles, such as her current one in RKO's "The Leopard Man," and she has never once been permitted to play an American girl. Recently she signed a contract to appear in three motion pictures for a Mexican studio, to be filmed in Mexico City. Yes, in her first Mexican motion picture, Margo will portray for the first time an American girl. . . . Promised and hoped Chicago, April 8—(AP) — The Illinois Congress of Parent-Teacher Associations will elect its officers by mail this year. . . . The organization yesterday received the commendation of Joseph B. New officers will be elected by a mail poll of the delegates.
